Councillor Barnes gave his thanks to the Clerk and Chair for their work and support throughout the year. Reported that East Sussex has to make cuts of between 70-90million over the next 3 years and would be exploiting more digital technology to help with this. The use of agile working would mean less office space and less staff and partnership working is all helping to save money.

Virtually no waste is now going to landfill as it is nearly all being recycled so very little is being paid out in landfill tax.

South East Services, a joint venture with Surrey is seeing more joint use of services and buildings but there are real cuts to front line services such as the mobile library once every 3 weeks instead of 2.

They have managed to save the 318 bus service but this must be used and supported or it will be lost.

East Sussex has an excellent rating for Children's services, one of the best in the country, with an outstanding rating for fostering and adoption services but a new project called 'thrive' to tackle the problem of families rather than dealing with the children after problems occur is being rolled out.

Schools are doing very well and the county is very good at turning round failing schools.

East Sussex has been very good at building up reserves of money in the good years which has given East Sussex an buffer which has been used to good effect such as the Bexhill to Hastings link road.

Household incomes in East Sussex are rising 9 times higher than other parts of the country.

Currently spending 30 million a year to improve roads although there is a problem with pothole repairs not lasting. 12million has been put aside this year to benefit unclassified roads for the first time in 20years.
